Your perfect day starts here...

Naturally, you want everything to be 'just perfect' on your wedding day, which is why, at The Black Swan – Idridgehay, we ensure everything is just that from the moment you and your guests arrive. Our beautiful venue is situated in the quiet village of Idridgehay and overlooking the picturesque Ecclesbourne Valley. Our Orangery dining area boasts stunning views for miles with an outdoor patio and garden area for you to enjoy with your special guests. Our devoted team of staff will work to make your day everything you've dreamed of.

The Black Swan is an independently owned bar and restaurant situated in the small village of Idridgehay Derbyshire; close to the surrounding areas, Ashbourne, Matlock, Derby, and Belper. The village of Idridgehay hosts a stunning, quaint Church, situated with just a 2 minute walk from The Black Swan, meaning your civil ceremony can be held within walking distance from your wedding venue, with full use of our car park for your guests.

The Black Swan was a former coaching inn, built around 1840, the outside of the building still offers all its original features, with stunning listed windows to shape the front and create a lovely welcome to all of our guests. In 2017 we went through a complete refurbishment on the interior of our venue, upgrading all our facilities and décor, resulting in a stylish and now very popular venue for many special occasions.

Our interior is the perfect blend of rustic & contemporary. We offer two main dining areas; a conservatory and orangery room, which are conveniently linked together with large glass windows, meaning your guests are never too far away. Both rooms are naturally lit with stunning views of the rolling Derbyshire hills.

Complete with a private bar, bare scaffolding panels, brick walls and beautifully stylish lighting, our venue is an inspiring canvas for your perfect day.

Situated to the back of the building is our large garden space and raised garden terrace. A peaceful, relaxing area for you and your guests to enjoy their day – stunning on a summer's day and beautifully lit as the night draws in on a winters evening.

Our raised terrace boasts a perfect backdrop of the Ecclesbourne Valley and can accommodate a large marquee if required. Outdoor dining and drinks can be arranged or just another great space for a dance floor and live acts on the evening of your perfect day. The options for something different on your wedding day here are endless.

The Black Swan serves the Best of British food, using seasonal ingredients; sources within the British Isles and wherever possible locally. We offer traditional Great British dishes skilfully prepared.

Our menu boasts a selection of fine dining A La Carte dishes or traditional pub classics, meaning creating your perfect wedding menu is something we, with our team of exceptional chefs, can excel in.
